OUTDOOR EDUCATORS

Livestock Career Development Program

The Elders Livestock Career Development Program is an 18-month entry level program specifically designed by our in-house livestock leaders to launch your career in the livestock industry, furthering your learning about livestock sales and marketing, as well as production and animal health.

Program Structure

As a part of the Livestock Career Development Program, you'll have the opportunity to work on real jobs in both saleyard and branch environments, being mentored and guided by our experienced employees and leaders, learning effective selling and relationship building techniques.

The program runs for 18 months, beginning in late January each year. You will undergo two to three personalised rotations between our branches. These rotations are designed to provide you greater exposure to the business and give you the opportunity to grow your skills across different conditions and teams. We are therefore looking for people who are willing to relocate throughout our network, across Australia.

As the next generation of livestock sales agents, you'll receive hands-on training, allowing you to apply your learnings to real jobs and to make real contributions. In addition to the guidance, you'll receive from your Branch Manager, you'll also be assigned a mentor who will support you throughout the program, providing additional coaching and advice. You'll be given the tools, training, and experience to succeed in your career, whilst making a difference to Australia's rural communities.

You will gain a broad understanding of Elders and the agricultural industry, and upon completion of the program, you'll have all the skills and knowledge necessary to move into a permanent role with us.

Locations: Australia wide

THE OUTDOOR EDUCATION GROUP ▲

An Outdoor Educator is an important and impactful role, allowing you to share your knowledge and passion for the outdoors by guiding students in some of the most remarkable and unforgettable locations and venues around our beautiful country. The Outdoor Education Group strive to empower our team to grow and develop, regardless of which pathway led them to us. In support of our teams' performance, we focus on both on-the-job training and facilitated learning environments.

There are numerous pathways for people to become Outdoor Educators and depending on your experience, we can find the right route for you.

TRAINEESHIPS

As a Trainee, you will lead camp-based outdoor education programs while studying and training towards a Nationally Recognised Certificate IV in Outdoor Leadership. There are no pre-requisites for enrolment into the traineeship so long as you pass a pre-interview with The Outdoor Education Group and display passion and enthusiasm.

Trainees complete the Certificate IV in Outdoor Leadership which has 27 units and incorporates high-quality industry experience through working and training with The Outdoor Education Group.

INTERNSHIPS

As an Intern, you will lead various outdoor education programs while studying towards a Bachelor of Outdoor Leadership \(SBOL\), which provides you with all the knowledge, training, and skills you will need to lead others in the outdoors. In addition, you will work closely throughout their degree with experienced members of The Outdoor Education Group team.

Internships empower students to put their learning into practice, continually strengthening their industry knowledge, skills, and professional behaviour.

The Outdoor Education Group partnership with Victoria University is the first of its kind, with an integrated working internship as part of an outdoor leadership degree. Our innovative approach has been highly successful, and this program continues to develop and grow today.
